As always, we will continue to provide quality tooling for your products. You can be confident that our tooling experts have the experience and desire to make your tooling program go smoothly. From the estimating stage to the part buy-off, DTE will work with you to attain the highest value for your dollar. We can assist your product designers at the early stages of design. Our Tooling Engineers will strive to find the best tooling solution and the best die package within your budget. Our engineers employ Unigraphics software and forming simulations to aid their creativity. Our shop will make every effort to produce a well-built tool that your press operators and maintenance tool makers admire for years to come. We look forward to seeing your parts come off quality tools built by DTE!
